Travel back to the 1940s-60s Saturday with musical show

The Hit Parade, which sold out in its March 2018 premiere, will be presented Saturday at the Uvalde Grand Opera House. The best of the 1940s, '50s, and '60s will be presented in an approximately two-hour performance by musicians of varying styles. "Take a trip down memory lane with the opera house this spring to see local pianist Toni Hull along with your favorite local talent and some new faces to sing a program of all your favorite golden oldies," said Jennifer Lawrence, communications coordinator for the opera house. Songs to be performed include those made popular by Dolly Parton,

Elvis Presley, Ritchie Valens, Patti Page, Ethel Merman, Nancy Sinatra, Glenn Miller, The Beatles and Johnny Cash. This year's set will feature performances by The Hackberry Hags, The Memories, Uvalde High School jazz band, Juan Mendez, UHS girls' ensemble, Sarah Hensarling, Jim Woodward, Vince DiPiazza, Al Haughey, Ben and Rene Ford, Debbie Blalock, Amanda Van Cleve, Kipp Boales, Jimmy Carnes, Elaine and Jason Schlicht-ing, Greg Knapp, Paul Kimble, Steve Cox, Linda Koehl, Robert Miguel, Daniel Martinez, Mario Rangel, Erik Castillo, Camille Sanders, Kaydence Rodriguez, Rosie Whisenant, Nathan and Ann Lafrenz and Katie Cabralez. The master of ceremonies will be Bill Ed Kolinek. Jama Brown will be the stage manager and Blaine Bennett will be the sound engineer. The program will begin at 7 p.m. on March 30. All proceeds will benefit the opera house. Tickets are $15 for adults and $10 for those 18 years of age or younger. Tickets can be purchased by visiting www.uvaldeoperahouse.org/tickets.
